

Certified Testers - Backflow Assemblies

The demand for certified backflow testers is very high, often resulting in delays in completing the test. Please select a backflow device tester from this list who will complete the test and submit the necessary test form(s) within the period allowed. You should arrange for your tester to complete minor repairs at the time of the initial test. The completed test results must be received by your backflow device tester by the due date indicated on the test form.
