PUBLIC WORKS

Wastewater Treatment Facility

We invite you to come see what happens to 7 million gallons of wastewater daily and enjoy our super-sized mural! Tour our Wastewater Treatment Facility on Wednesday, Feb. 12, 10 a.m. – 12 p.m. To sign up, email abird@cityofsantacruz.com or call (831) 420-6293.

Facility mechanics and Peterson Power contractors worked together to disconnect our main electricity cogenerating engine so it could be removed and transported off-site for an annual rebuild.

A contracted waste disposal company has been working closely with the facility to clear our perimeter fence line and the corresponding vegetative buffer zone. For safety and security reasons, the perimeter fencing of this facility is kept clear of vegetation, habitation and accumulated garbage. To date the contractor has removed over 3,000 lbs. of garbage.

Contractors are conducting an excavation project to provide access to the underground UV System bypass valve which broke during maintenance work. The UV System provides pathogen disinfection for the treated effluent discharged from the facility. Sodium hypochlorite is used for disinfection before ocean discharge. It provides a low chlorine residual level which kills any pathogens present but is also low enough to not adversely affect the ocean marine environment.

Engineering

We are pleased to announce that our San Lorenzo River Parkway Phase III/Trestle Trail Project has been recognized as 2019 Project of the Year by the American Public Works Association, Monterey Bay Chapter. Our engineering team along with the MME Civil and Structural Engineering team were presented with the award at a ceremony Wednesday night. Read more.

We began construction of the Coastal Rail Trail Segment 7 – Phase I Project. The 1.2 mile long segment will run from Bay Street/California Street to Natural Bridges Drive. Friends of the Rail and Trail will be hosting a groundbreaking celebration for this project on Saturday, Jan. 25, from 1-3 p.m. at 402 Ingalls Street along the alley next to the rail corridor. We hope to see you there!

Resource Recovery

Bollards are being installed this week for the Landfill Food Waste System Concrete Pads Project. The Resource recovery sweepers collected and disposed of 22.15 tons of debris from City roadways this week and worked on a special clean-up of the Lee Street neighborhood. Our newly hired Waste Reduction Assistant jumped right in to public speaking with an interactive talk at 11th Hour Coffee House. Learning about the 6Rs, attendees were encouraged to stay positive and share what they've learned.

Recycling Market

Recycling market conditions for mixed paper continue to be poor. The Resource Recovery Facility used to process and sell mixed paper at a net profit; for the last year we have processed and sold at a net cost. Staff estimates a net cost of $8 to $35 per ton to recycle mixed paper bales. For the last two months, we have been unable to market mixed paper at any cost. This is due to significant early season rain causing high moisture content and mold in mixed paper bales – the paper arrives wet and there is no way for us to dry it.

At present, no market exists for our mixed paper, causing recycling staff to send approximately 200 tons, or about 285 bales, to landfill. We have landfilled mixed paper two or three times before, but never this much.

Previously there was more space to tarp and store paper during downturns in the market. Wet degraded moldy bales degrade very rapidly in winter months. Still, we will try to store as much as we can inside, and will use the older bales as an interface for material that needs to be stored outside. Based on market conditions, we do not foresee any turnaround in the market in the near term. We are working on an informational report to Council on the current state of recycling markets, which should be ready in February.

POLICE

Santa Cruz Continues To March Forward

This week, the NAACP Santa Cruz County Branch and the Santa Cruz Police Department invited the community to celebrate the extraordinary life and vision of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"The time is always right to do what is right." - Martin Luther King, Jr. From one man's dream to many. Approximately 300 young and old diverse community members gathered Monday morning in downtown Santa Cruz to spread awareness of social justice causes and the dream King spoke of more than 50 years ago.

"The community, including Santa Cruz Police has to do more than march and talk," said Chief Mills. The police department is taking three measures this year to improve the lives of people of color. By the end of April, every police officer will be trained to counteract biased policing, he said. The police department is also getting rid of predictive policing and is now screening calls from the community that are solely based on race, stated Chief Mills.

After the march, the crowd gathered inside the Louden Nelson Community Center to listen to a group of nine panelists. Keisha Frost Browder, CEO of United Way Santa Cruz County, served as the master of ceremonies.

Speaking on the panel were Rabbi Paula Marcus from Temple Beth El, gospel singer Tammi Brown, Santa Cruz Mayor Justin Cummings, Santa Cruz High School senior Rashonda Rhodes, Santa Cruz Warriors head coach Kris Weems, Santa Cruz Police Chief Andy Mills, Rev. Deborah Johnson of Inner Light Ministries, UC Santa Cruz Professor of African History David Anthony and NAACP of Santa Cruz County President Brenda Griffin.

Thank you to our amazing community who came out in support of the inspiring MLK Day March 2020. SCPD is grateful for the teamwork of volunteers supporting the MLK March and our partnerships with the many individuals, organizations, nonprofit groups and services invested in MLK Jr's legacy.

Santa Cruz Police Crime Stats for 2019

The Santa Cruz Police release the 2019 Uniform Crime Report (UCR) for the City of Santa Cruz. The end of year statistics reflects that overall crime has remained flat. The crime rate range is within expected average values based on FBI Part 1 reported offenses for the past five years.

The data shows there was a slight decrease in overall Part 1 crime. Sexual assault, arson and auto theft showed substantially lower reported incidents this year, while robbery showed an increase. All crime reporting results are within the acceptable range of standard deviation according to the UCR annual dashboard. Homicide is below the standard deviation range.

The Z-Score, or threshold analysis, measures the difference of a rolling five year average from current crime data. The further the number departs from zero indicates the amount the crime pattern has shifted in a positive or negative direction. When negative shifts occur, police managers examine why the deviation and adjust tactics to abate crime.

UCR Annual Dashboard - Overall Z-Scores

UCR data is collected nationwide to create uniform crime statistics. The Crime Rate Index* is a measurement based on an estimated 66,424 population in the City of Santa Cruz. The per capita crime rate ensures data consistency.

ED: Housing & Community Development Update

HUD CONSOLIDATED PLAN COMMUNITY SURVEY CLOSES JANUARY 31ST

The City of Santa Cruz is developing its 2020-2025 Consolidated Plan and is seeking input from City residents to help identify City needs and priorities through a community survey. The five year Consolidated Plan provides the basis for how the City applies for, receives, and distributes U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant funding for the City's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) and HOME Investment Partnership (HOME) Programs.

This survey is available until January 31, 2020 and the Housing division will be conducting outreach at various community events during the survey window to collect responses in person as well. The results will help determine how to best prioritize funding designated for eligible programs, projects and services in our low-income communities and neighborhoods.
