All In — Shaping Our Future

The All In — Shaping Our Future (All In) program has begun! All In is a way of business life focused on a culture of continuous improvement, with particular focus on reviews that will improve our delivery of services. The program's stewardship team, comprised of 14 colleagues from all departments bringing unique perspectives to the table, have been hard at work for over a month to learn and create a process for service reviews.

City service reviews will identify potential improvements in key areas such as workforce, cost recovery, shared services, prioritized or new services, and more. For over a month, the team dived into important topics such as Finance 101, project management, and process reengineering. We have:

- Defined our team's scope of work and our roles as program stewards.
- Established a request intake form.
- Begun brainstorming a template for status reports and project charters for each service review.

Additionally, we are determining a scoring rubric for all service review requests, so we can prioritize them for inclusion in the program. Through six meetings, 252 Post-it notes, and three ice breakers, we are putting together an excellent path forward!

Your thoughts on moving our agency forward in a positive direction will be needed—we will soon be asking for your opinions! This feedback will lead to projects chosen for a service review. The stewardship team will work with each sponsoring department to build a team of subject-matter experts for each service review selected. We are very excited about taking a fresh look at how we do things and why, then finding better, more efficient, cost-effective solutions.

Start thinking about how the City can run more efficiently and how we can improve on our citywide resiliency, respond to changes in our environment, and solve problems effectively and responsibly. We are all in to shape our future—join us!

Best Regards,
Christina Alberti

City Council Approves Parklet Designs & Incentive Program

On April 25, 2023, the City Council formally adopted the Pre-Approved Parklet Designs and the creation of the Parklet Incentive Program for Outdoor Dining. The designs were developed by local landscape architecture firm Dillon Design Studios, on behalf of the City, to provide streamlined permitting for businesses wishing to build a permanent parklet. The estimated cost to construct these designs is $19,000–$30,000. Economic Development staff continues to work on cost-saving options for businesses to construct parklets with these designs.

The City Council also approved a Parklet Incentive Program that will provide financial assistance to businesses building permanent parklets. Under the program, businesses using the pre-approved design options would be eligible to receive a grant up to $10,000 toward construction of their parklet. Businesses retrofitting a temporary parklet or using a custom parklet design are eligible to receive $5,000 toward the cost. More information is available on the City website.

Homelessness Response Field Team

The collaborative effort between Homelessness Response Field Team, Police, and Parks at the Harvey West Friendship Garden was completed over two days. Staff utilized ATVs to safely remove abandoned debris and hazardous waste in this terrain.

Street Maintenance

The Street Maintenance sign crew reinstalled a wayfinding sign on Water Street that had been damaged in a vehicle accident.

Resource Recovery

The Waste Reduction Team collaborated with Santa Cruz County to coordinate hugely successful Earth Day activities, with over 1,500 attendees. Staff answered questions at a Food Scrap Diversion booth and hosted a Teen Fashion Show at Abbott Square with fashion made from repurposed trash. Entries included “Vampiric Beauty” and “Where’s the News.”

Master Recyclers served at waste stations and booths, helping visitors to “Recycle Right.” Other City booths included Climate Action, Storm Water, and Parks and Recreation.

Energy Efficiency & Resource Recovery

The City's first-ever electric refuse truck was delivered earlier this year. Its grant-funded requirements included "scrapping" of the old renewable diesel truck. Energy Efficiency and Resource Recovery staff delivered the old truck to a facility and documented the scrapping process in order to seek reimbursement. The grant funding was awarded by MBARD and VW in 2021.

Facility Maintenance

During routine maintenance of the City Hall public restrooms, Facilities staff noticed that the drains were underperforming. A contractor was scheduled to snake the main drains, and the problem was discovered! Over 20 pairs of underwear had been tied together and flushed down a toilet. The drain was cleared and the public restrooms have been reopened.

Street Maintenance

Our Street Maintenance road crew used about four tons of asphalt to patch a construction area on the Santa Cruz Municipal Wharf.

The Street Maintenance sign crew repainted parking Ts and speed bumps on Pelton Avenue this week.
